Round About Town

There was a lot of commotion on the street last Tuesday night. Oh well — boys will be boys but don't you think that they could have resisted the temptation of reading the girls letters.

We heard that one of our young men took a prominent lady citizen out in the country last week. The best of it all was that he was going to visit his girl — friend.

Everyone is in suspense! Rumors are afloat that a certain young lady has changed her name. Are they true — we wonder?

What was wrong with some of the high school girls last Saturday night? It looked as if their Christmas shopping had made too big a hole in their pocket books. But it was better late than never girls.

Anyone requiring a nurse maid on Card Club night send an ad to the Advance Office, when you will get quick returns from the new nursemaid who has proved to be very efficient.

A Certain young lady was complaining all week about a stiff neck and chapped lips. We hear also that she wasn't at the party on Sunday night. —Of course we know there was no connection between the two — or was there?

One girl living in town of late has that far away dreamy look in her eyes these days. We are inclined to blame a certain visitor for it.

Another Youth Problem

A good deal is heard about the plight of the jobless youth of the country but not so much is said about the misfortunes of the many young men who are pitchforked into employment for which they are not fitted, either by inclination or education, or both and who, as a result, either presently find themselves out of work or else out a miserable existence on an inadequate wage with little hope of improving their lot except after a lengthy period of painful trial and error.

The existence of a substantial number of these square pegs in round holes in the larger towns and cities, many of them originating from the farms and small villages, cannot but arouse the sympathy of the spectator and curiosity as to the underlying causes of this condition.

"Well, he has a job anyway and look at the thousands who are unable to get any kind of work" is apt to be the reaction of some of the unemployed and of some who are successful in their chosen vocation, but who do not realize that the situation represents a problem of economic and human waste which requires solution just as much as the problem of unemployment itself.

For it cannot be gainsaid that the young man who is struggling to make a living in employment which is incompatible and for which he has little or no aptitude, is likely sooner or later to become imbued with a spirit of frustration when he realizes, perhaps after several of the best years of his life, that he is faced with the alternative of starting afresh at the bottom in some other vocation or of remaining where he is with all prospects of advancement beyond the mediocre either extremely remote or entirely absent. In other words the number of years that he has spent in fruitless effort have represented a waste not only for himself but for the industry in which he is engaged.

Shortage Of Skilled Labor In Sight

There are many causes responsible for this condition, not the least of which is the great depression which has brought about a stalemate from which industry has not yet recovered. In the earlier stages of the depression large numbers of men were discharged. Some of the experienced men are now beyond working age and others, somewhat younger, have not yet been able to get back into their former vocation.

While some industrial firms have, in the meantime, filled up gaps caused by death or the necessity to take on additional help with former experienced employees, others have taken on younger and inexperienced men at lower wages on the assumption that they were economizing. Included in this group are many young men who have taken courses in the technical schools and who, presumably, therefore, were equipped to fill the vacancies as well as many others who have had little or no training. For every vacant job there has been an overwhelming rush of applicants and, under the circumstances it is not surprising that there are a good many of these square pegs in round holes.

Moreover, executives have found by experience that too often the products of these technical schools are not much better equipped for practical industrial conditions than some who have had little or no training and as a result the lad who appears in the workshop as a graduate finds that he must start practically from scratch or try to get work in some other branch of industry.

As a result heads of industrial concerns are already visualizing a time in the not far distant future when there will actually be a shortage of skilled workers, despite the large number of unemployed and the not inconsiderable number of youths who are being turned out of institutions devoted to training students in the technical arts and crafts.

Close Relations Needed

The situation appears to warrant investigation into the possibility of a closer tie-up between the technical institutions and industry, possibly the development of some system under which the student will spend a part of his time in the school and a part of his time in the workshop, not the workshop at the school but in the factory or the garage where he will meet practical everyday problems at first hand; in fact, a modern development of the old apprenticeship system.

It is along these lines that the Danes are solving this problem with considerable success. Under their apprenticeship law, enacted in 1921 and extended in 1937, provision is made for apprenticeships of four to five years, the administration of which is carried out by trades committees and apprentices councils, on both of which there is equal representation of employers and employees.

In every case of apprenticeship there must be a contract between master and apprentice, recognized by the public authorities. In this contract the duration of the apprenticeship, including provision for a six-month probationary period, and the wages to be paid must be stated. During his apprenticeship the apprentice must, at his employer's expense, attend the classes in technical as well as cultural training at a local technical school recognized by the Minister of Trade.

Industry of to-day is complicated by the very rapid strides being made in the fields of technology and science. The processes and operations of to-day are obsolete by tomorrow and this condition necessitates a very close and intimate relationship between education and industry itself.

English ornithologists have determined that the average length of a robin's life is 10 to 15 years.

A man wouldn't go around insisting that he's as good as anybody unless he had some doubts about it.

HOW YOU CAN ATTRACT MEN

Don't let love and romance pass you by. Men like girls with lots of pep. So start taking Lipo-proven Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made especially for women from whommen's and aid roots, helps Nature tone up your system and thus insure a healthy, happy woman for many years to really enjoy life.

For over 60 years Lydia E. Pinkham has told an average lot of "wondering" women that "Pinkham's Compound" is the best thing for you.

Badly Affected

Ferenc Szabo, a printer, was found unconscious on the street in Budapest and later told police at the hospital he had set in type the name and address of his unfaithful sweetheart and then swallowed the type.

Fresh water is found 200 miles at sea off the mouth of the Amazon river; the force of the current carries the fresh water that distance.

A "fixed focus" camera is one having a lens focussed for the best average distance, or 25 feet.

The Prime Of Usefulness

Average Worker At Forty Is Valuable To His Employer

The idea that men and women who have reached the age of 40 are no longer assets in industry is scoffed at by the American Legion re-employment director, states the Detroit Free Press.

And he cites studies made by the Labor Department, the American Association of Manufacturers and university researchers to show that because of his maturity and greater stability and sense of responsibility, an average worker at 40 years of age is just reaching the prime of his usefulness.

Common sense and industrial experience reach the same conclusion.

A job in which physical brawn and stamina alone are required naturally can be better done by men who have not passed the peak of their physical strength. And yet even here no arbitrary age limit can be set. A man at 60, who has taken care of himself, will be able to stand the physical test better than a man of 40, who has dissipated his strength in riotous living.

There are many jobs in industry, though, where physical strength is a secondary consideration. And it is in these jobs that employers have discovered that men and women over 40 are as valuable as, if not more valuable than, younger persons.

At the age of 40 men and women, if they are worth anything at all, usually have acquired family responsibilities. They are likely, therefore, to be less radical and more loyal. They have experience and maturity of judgment, which come only with years. They cannot be replaced by boys and girls without temporary loss to their employers.

All this is so well known to business men and industrialists that it is rather surprising that it should be felt necessary, at this late date, to tell the country that "useful life begins at 40."

Civil Aviation In Canada

Pilots Now Fly More Than Ten Million Miles A Year

Civil aviation in Canada, a $5,000,000 investment, is making tremendous progress and its pilots now fly more than 10,000,000 miles a year—a distance equivalent to 400 times around the world at the equator.

A report prepared by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics disclosed since 1933, aircraft mileage for civil pilots has more than doubled and total freight and express carried has jumped six-fold.

In 1933 the mileage was 4,000,000 and last year 10,700,000. Freight and express carried in 1933 amounted to 4,200,000 pounds and this increased to 26,200,000 in 1937.

Licensed civil airports jumped from 90 in 1933 to 158 last year; licensed civil aircraft showed an increase from 345 in the mid-depression year to 604 in 1937.

Flight figures for 1937 indicated there were 328 commercial pilots in the Dominion, 129 limited commercial pilots, 73 transport pilots, 635 private pilots and 595 air mechanics.

A breakdown of the total investment in civil aviation disclosed that there was $2,251,000 invested in aircraft last year, $21,039,000 in organization expenditures, $811,000 in land and buildings, $467,000 in tools and equipment and $44,000 in furniture and office appliances.

There were 159,829 passengers carried by civil aviation planes with Ontario leading the provinces in air traffic with 33,198 passengers. Quebec was second with 30,698 and Saskatchewan third with 14,366.

The Queen Mother

Will Supervise Care Of Young Princesses During Absence Of King And Queen

The visit of the King and Queen to America next year will bring Queen Mary from her self-imposed semi-retirement to supervise the care of their two daughters.

Princess Elizabeth, heir to the throne, and her sister, Princess Margaret Rose, will be under the official supervision of the queen mother but will be directly cared for by their governess, Miss Joan Crawford. They will follow their normal school routine, living at Buckingham Palace.

It is expected, however, that Queen Mary's visits to Buckingham Palace will be much more frequent, while the children will go daily to Marlborough House to visit their grandmother. She will resume her former practice of taking them for afternoon visits to places of public interest, such as the zoo, art galleries and museums.

Buckingham Palace sources said that the two young princesses have accepted the trip of their parents philosophically, without showing chagrin because they cannot go too.

Grand Championships

Western Winners Are Named In Various Classes

Nels Linden of Gwynne, Alta., not only won the National Wheat Championship at the 1938 Royal Winter Fair, but also took the barley Grand Championship. He won the wheat crown with a sample of Reward wheat, a hard red spring variety originated by the Cereal Division, Dominion Experimental Farms. It weighed 69 pounds to the bushel. The Grand Championship barley was a sample of the Treble variety.

Nels Linden went to Alberta from Minnesota over 20 years ago and farms about 1,000 acres at Gwynne, near Wetaskiwin. He has been a member of the Canadian Seed Growers' Association for several years.

The new Grand Championship for wheat at the Royal went to Cecil Trowell of Saltcoats, Sask., for his sample of Reward. He, too, is a member of the Canadian Seed Growers' Association.

The 1937 National Wheat Championship at the Royal Winter Fair, went to Hans Schubert of Wembley, Alberta, a member of the Canadian Boys' and Girls' Farm Clubs. This year his sample of Reward was placed fourth.

W. Justyn Rigby, Wembley, Alberta, was awarded the Grand Championship for oats. He sowed a sample of the Victory variety. The championship for peas went to Douglas Gibson, Ladner, B.C., for alfalfa seed to A. E. Rusk, White Fox, Sask.; for potatoes to George Elchuk, Muriel, Ont., and for beans to G. F. Hillard, Monarch, Alberta.

A Long Highway

Dream Of 12,000-Mile Road From Alaska To South America

A highway starting in the northern snows of Alaska and ending in the southern snows of Patagonia is gradually emerging from the dream stage. Along 12,000 miles of road, if the dream comes true, bumper cars some day may go from Canada and the United States to the 20 republics of Latin America.

A report to the Pan-American Conference will show that great progress has been made since the last conference at Montevideo. Great stretches of the highway are in operation. You can drive from a point considerably north in Canada through the United States, through Mexico City toward Guatemala.

Canada recently has taken a direct interest in travel facilities between the great tracts of the highway. British Columbia has conferred in Washington recently about the proposed highway south from Alaska through British Columbia.

Canadian Macaroni

Exports From Canada To The United Kingdom Are Increasing

The quality of Canadian macaroni on the British market brings prestige to the Dominion, states the Canadian Trade Commissioner at Montreal. Due to its popularity, there are enquiries from line to time from distributors of food products who wish to act as direct agent of a Canadian manufacturer. For the 12 months ended March, 1938, exports of macaroni from Canada to the United Kingdom amounted to 5,392,571 pounds, valued at $312,845. For the previous twelve months, the amount was 4,766,977 pounds, valued at $251,195.

Juvenile Contest

Boys' And Girls' Farm Clubs Compete At Toronto Winter Fair

The eighth annual National Contest for the Boys' and Girls' Farm Clubs conducted by the Canadian Council on Boys' and Girls' Club Work in conjunction with the Royal Winter Fair, Toronto, were held at the Fair on November 14. These annual contests are provided by the Council as a reward to the members of the provincial championship teams for their efficiency in farm club work, the purpose of the National Contests being the advancement and co-ordination of junior farm club work in Canada. The movement of boys' and girls' farm clubs commenced in 1931, and there are now 37,254 members throughout the Dominion.

At this year's contests, teams from Manitoba, Quebec and British Columbia were the first places, Manitoba winning three, Quebec two, and British Columbia one. There were six projects in the competitions—Dairy Cattle, Beef Cattle, Swine, Poultry, Seed Grain, and Seed Potato. In all, 32 teams entered, number 64 members, eight of whom were girls. Each team consisted of two members and represented all the provinces of Canada; Nova Scotia, Ontario, Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta, and British Columbia sent four teams each; New Brunswick and Quebec, three each, and Prince Edward Island, two. All the teams, according to the conditions of the National Contests, were the winners in the respective provincial contests, their expenses in connection with the visit to the Winter Fair being paid by the Canadian Council.

U.S. Plane Production

Goal Of 1,000 Planes A Month Expected To Be Reached

United States aircraft manufacturers are seeking means of tripling their output to keep pace with President Roosevelt's report program of acquiring one of the world's strongest fleets of warplanes.

A mass production goal of 1,000 planes a month, to be attained within a few months if possible, was laid down at a conference of manufacturers and government officials, informal persons declared.

Some of the president's advisers hope that within two years the industry's capacity (though not actual output) may be stepped up to 2,000 planes a month.

Only Germany, officials believe, can turn out military planes now at the 1,500 monthly rate. American output of all types, including commercial aircraft, averaged only 320 planes a month the first nine months of this year.

The wheat is being stored at the northern Manitoba port preparatory to shipment overseas in 1939. Flax grown by Mr. Wirsig on the same land has gone East as no flax was consigned north this year.

Mr. Wirsig has a previous claim in fame in that he grew what is believed to be the largest pumpkin in Manitoba this year. It measured more than two yards in circumference.

UNITED STATES GETS TURNIPS FROM CAN. DA

With the approach of cold weather comes an increase in the consumption of turnips in the United States. A mild winter is reflected in a decrease in imports while a cold winter finds greater quantities entering principally from Canada, according to the Agricultural Department of the Canadian National Railways. Prince Edward Island and Ontario are the chief sources of supply while New York, Boston and Chicago are the principal markets. There is a very limited domestic production of turnips.

NEW AIR MAIL SERVICE TEMPI SOUVENIR HUNTERS

Winnipeg, Man. Dec. 8: With the inauguration of air mail on the Trans-Canada Air Lines, the Post Office Department began putting stickers on the Winnipeg letter boxes, the object was to make citizens air conscious. They took to the idea so readily that they began taking the stickers for souvenirs.

The devices are circular, five inches in diameter, and show a white plane on a blue background. Nice souvenirs, but soon the public will be used to them, the Post Office hopes. When they are dry they can't be removed.
